BANKERS LIFE FIELDHOUSE

With 750,000 square feet and 18,165 seats, this is a fairly new house that is, remarkably, in just its 15th year, an old home.

Bankers Life Fieldhouse, opened Nov. 6, 1999, when the Indiana Pacers hosted the Boston Celtics, is a step into the future while taking a walk back into history. It's big, yet comfortable. It has all the modern appliances, yet there's that favorite old picture on the wall. It is a building that is unique in today's sports society because the extra effort was made to make it that way. In other words, if you have a religion, you must build the appropriate cathedral.

In Indiana, basketball is religion. Bankers Life Fieldhouse is a cathedral. That's why the home of the Indiana Pacers and Indiana Fever is unique.

"We wanted this building to have a kind of special feeling to it, that when people came into it they felt part of the tradition that the building is for," said Donnie Walsh, then the Pacers Sports & Entertainment CEO & President who was instrumental in the Fieldhouse becoming a reality. "I think this is a pure basketball arena that reflects the game itself and the roots of the game."

Ground was broken on July 22, 1997 on the $183 million multi-purpose facility and while there were blueprints, a scale model and dreams, it was hard for anyone at the time to fathom what would evolve. But what has risen 14 stories into the Indianapolis skyline is a fit perfect for the city, the state, the game of basketball at any level and the various events a facility of this type would host.

"There are so many features that make it one-of-a-kind," said Tom Proebstle, Project Designer for Ellerbe Beckett, the Fieldhouse design firm. "The most obvious feature is the two huge glass curtain walls facing east and west that mark the beginning of an incredible architectural promenade as you are approaching downtown on the highway and see the lit-up glass set against the Indianapolis skyline. No other arena in the world can claim this. I'm sure it will be copied many times over."

That's the view from the outside. Inside, the unique look and feel of Bankers Life Fieldhouse takes over. The Indiana University Health Entry Pavilion is a vast gathering place that funnels fans to the Grand Staircase. As patrons make their way up the staircase, their view takes them to their first look at the seating bowl (another unique feature) or to large memorabilia cases on each side of the entrance to the Fieldhouse seating bowl.

From there, no matter which direction one takes, it's a nostalgic look. From the signage, to the concession stands, to the sponsor pavilions, to the bathrooms, to the one-of-a-kind Practice Court, to the light fixtures, to the scoreboard, Bankers Life Fieldhouse is unique, distinct and, as Pacers' great Reggie Miller described, "Unbelievable. Absolutely unbelievable. Far beyond my expectations."

Bankers Life Fieldhouse has suites (69), club seats (2,400) and state-of-the-art amenities. But it has a look and feel unlike any other indoor facility.

This unique feel has brought many comparisons and compliments to Bankers Life Fieldhouse. The USA Today calls the Fieldhouse "A Cathedral to Basketball" and Amusement Business Magazine refers to Bankers Life Fieldhouse as "The Camden Yards of Basketball." NBC's Bob Costas said Bankers Life Fieldhouse "is winning raves all around the league, many think it's the best building in the NBA."

A 2006 survey by the Sports Business Journal ranked Bankers Life Fieldhouse as the No. 1 venue in the NBA. An informal ranking in the Orange County Register, in 2008, echoed the same rating.

In addition to hosting the Indiana Pacers and Fever, the Fieldhouse has hosted major boxing events and visits from Pavarotti, Bill Cosby, Bruce Springsteen, Elton John and Billy Joel, Bob Seger, George Strait & Reba McEntire, The Boston Pops, John Mellencamp, Paul McCartney, Tim McGraw & Faith Hill, The Dixie Chicks, NSync, AC/DC, Britney Spears, Carrie Underwood, Crosby Stills, Nash & Young, Kid Rock, U2, Hannah Montana, Disney On Ice and Dancing With

The Stars. It has also played host to the 2002 FIBA World Basketball Championships, the 2004 FINA World Short Course Swimming Championships and the United States Gymnastics Championships. In April 2011, it played host to the NCAA Women's Final Four. In 2012 the Fieldhouse provided a border to the east side of the Super Bowl Village for Super Bowl XLVI. It has been a nearly annual host of the Big Ten Conference men's and women's basketball tournaments, and a gathering point for the National FFA Convention – the nation's largest annual youth gathering.

Additionally, Bankers Life Fieldhouse has been cited for its compliance and exceeding of ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act) requirements.

Bankers Life Fieldhouse was the host site of the 2011 NCAA Women's Final Four, welcoming Connecticut, Stanford, Notre Dame and Texas A&M to Indianapolis. Texas A&M defeated Notre Dame to earn its first national championship. The Women's Final Four returns to The Fieldhouse, April 3 & 5, 2016.

A basketball and entertainment showplace, Bankers Life Fieldhouse has regularly been rated as the top arena in the NBA.

WELCOME TO INDIANAPOLIS

What's to love about Indianapolis?
Plenty.

There are big-time professional and college sports, led by the NBA Indiana Pacers, the 2012 WNBA champion Indiana Fever and past NFL Super Bowl champion Indianapolis Colts.

There is the world-famous Indianapolis Motor Speedway, home to the world's two largest single-day sporting events (the Indianapolis 500 and the Allstate 400 at the Brickyard). The Speedway's Hall of Fame Museum is a year-round attraction.

There is the city's renowned reputation as an amateur sports capital, serving as home to the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA), four national sports governing bodies, Super Bowl XLVI, NCAA Men's and Women's Final Fours, the Big Ten Men's and Women's Basketball Tournaments, Big Ten Football Championship and numerous regional, national and international championships.

Besides the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, it boasts three of the finest sports venues in the world: Bankers Life Fieldhouse (home to the Pacers and Fever), Lucas Oil Stadium (home to the Colts) and Victory Field (home to the Triple-A Indianapolis Indians), not to mention historic Hinkle Fieldhouse on the campus of Butler University. Just a short walk from the NCAA offices and NCAA Hall of Champions are another pair of world-class venues downtown, on the campus of Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis (IUPUI). The IUPUI Natatorium has been a frequent host to U.S. Olympic Trials, and the Michael Carroll Track & Field Stadium is a frequent host of Olympic Trials events and the USA Outdoor Track & Field Championships.

Indy is home to six unique "cultural districts," each bustling with its own distinct flavor, flair and mix of pubs, restaurants, shops, arts and attractions.

Then there is a world-class urban park, White River State Park, with five major attractions within steps of each other. Stroll from the Indianapolis Zoo to the Indiana State Museum to the NCAA Hall of Champions to the Eiteljorg Museum of American Indians and Western Art to the Medal of Honor Winners Memorial. In the summertime, you can also catch a concert performed by renowned recording artists at The Lawn or a baseball game at Victory Field.

White River State Park also serves as the portal to the enchanting Central Canal, an ideal place to walk, jog or ride its one-and-a-half-mile length on a pedal boat or gondola.

The park is just one of 50 major attractions located within Indy's deliberately designed downtown that places dozens of hotels, more than 200 restaurants, shopping (including the 100 stores and shops of Circle Centre mall), cultural attractions and sports venues such as Bankers Life Fieldhouse and Lucas Oil Stadium within a few blocks. Even better, most are connected by the city's system of enclosed skywalks.

Just a short distance from downtown, the Children's Museum of Indianapolis, the world's largest, beckons to the young and young of heart. Nearby is the Indianapolis Museum of Art, which houses one of the largest general collections in the United States.

Other major attractions ring the city, including the delightful Conner Prairie, a living history museum that instantly transports visitors to 19th century Indiana; Traders Point Creamery, an organic farm featuring award-winning dairy products, or the enchanting village of Zionsville.

But as much as there is to love about Indiana's capital city, it's only getting better.

The 63,000-seat Lucas Oil Stadium opened in August 2008. Featuring a retractable roof, this multi-function stadium is not just home to the Colts, but the 2010 NCAA Men's Final Four, the 2011, 2012 and 2013 Big Ten Football Championship Games, the 2012 Super Bowl, music competitions, conventions, trade shows and concerts. The 2015 NCAA Men's Final Four returns in 2015.

The new $1 billion Weir Cook Terminal also has opened at Indianapolis International Airport. It is the first terminal to be constructed post-9/11 and features state-of-the-art security and convenience.

Recently completed is a complex of four hotel properties known as Marriott Place. The complex, adjacent to White River State Park and the Indiana Convention Center, includes 1,600 rooms and brings to 4,700 rooms (most in the country) connected to a convention center complex.

Also recently completed is Indy's "Cultural Trail." The landscaped trail will link the city's six cultural districts with biking and pedestrian pathways that will feature public art.

Whatever your pleasure – nightlife, museums, sports, music, arts, dining, shopping – it can be found in Indianapolis, all contained in a remarkable package of ease and convenience.

FINISH LINE

Just hours before Indiana hosted Game 3 of the WNBA Finals on Oct. 19, 2012, Pacers Sports & Entertainment and the Indiana Fever announced a marquee partnership with athletic retailer Finish Line that will feature the Finish Line logo on Fever team jerseys beginning in the 2013 season. The Finish Line brand will be integrated into Fever television broadcasts and team merchandise, team advertising and signage at Bankers Life Fieldhouse.

Where the Fever players are shown in uniform, Finish Line will be there too.

The multi-year agreement combines brand awareness with the Fever as well as activation of the Finish Line Ball Kids Program to be executed at all home games for the Fever and Indiana Pacers. Finish Line also will receive in-game advertising as part of the Pacers and Fever radio networks, and web links on FeverBasketball.com and BankersLifeFieldhouse.com.

"I am proud to partner with the Indiana Fever, one of the premiere women's professional sports teams in America," said Glenn Lyon, chairman and chief executive officer of Finish Line. "We are both teams that show dedication, commitment to our community and passion to be the best."

"Reaching agreement with Finish Line is one of the landmark moments in our franchise history," said Kelly Krauskopf, whose team won the 2012 WNBA championship just two days later. "Finish Line is a widely respected national brand in the athletic retail market. Partnering with such a reputable and prestigious company as Finish Line will enhance our own branding and visibility in the Indiana sports community and abroad."

Consumers in Central Indiana and all 12 WNBA markets will see the Finish Line logo during Fever radio and TV broadcasts as well as the Fever's Live Stream Webcast presented by Finish Line. Visitors to Bankers Life Fieldhouse will see the Finish Line logo aligned with the Fever on banners inside the building as well as on LED, courtside and scoreboard advertising during all Fever home games. A "Race to the Finish Line" scoreboard promotion also will take place during every Fever home game.

One of the most consistently competitive franchises in the WNBA, Indiana's jersey sponsorship became the sixth of its kind in the then-16-year league, joining the Phoenix Mercury, Los Angeles Sparks, Seattle Storm, New York Liberty and Washington Mystics. Tulsa added a jersey partner during the 2012-13 WNBA offseason.

KELLY KRAUSKOPF
PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER, INDIANA FEVER

 TWITTER

Kelly Krauskopf is in her 16th season as the Indiana Fever's top executive, engineering the franchise from its birth in 1999 and directing the club's business and basketball interests all the way to its first WNBA championship in 2012. The club's chief operating officer through 15 seasons and the past 11 as general manager, she was promoted to President and General Manager in October 2012.

Since the team was established, Krauskopf has been the guiding force of the Fever from building the team roster to building a fan base for Indiana's WNBA franchise. In her role with the Fever, Krauskopf oversees all aspects of the team's operation.

Since moving to Indianapolis and beginning the task of building a WNBA franchise, Krauskopf has engineered numerous player moves enabling the Fever to sustain arguably the highest level of consistency the 19-year WNBA has ever seen.

Krauskopf has guided the franchise to 11 playoff berths in its first 15 seasons – including a run of ten consecutive from 2005 to 2014. Indiana has become one of the WNBA's most successful franchises, joining the Los Angeles Sparks as the only clubs in league history to post seven 20-win seasons. In fact, the Fever is the league's only franchise ever to post seven 20-win seasons in an eight-year span (2005-12).

Under Krauskopf's guidance, the Fever secured identical 21-13 records in 2005, 2006, 2007, 2010 and 2011; and set its club standard with 22-12 records in each of its two seasons reaching the WNBA Finals – 2009 and 2012.

Though Indiana reached the WNBA Finals in 2009 and though the franchise had achieved such consistent, annual success, the Fever had never won the title -- until the 2012 season culminated in a magical playoff run resulting in the city's first professional basketball crown since the 1973 ABA Indiana Pacers.

The Krauskopf-built Fever is the most stable the franchise has ever been, led by perennial All-Star and three-time Olympic gold medalist Tamika Catchings and a mix of young fresh faces such as Briann January and Shavonte Zellous.

The hiring of Lin Dunn as head coach in 2008 only added to the club's stability. Inducted into the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame in 2014, Dunn joined the franchise as a scout in 2003, an assistant coach in 2004, and led the franchise to unprecedented playoff success in seven seasons as head coach.

Following Dunn's retirement, Krauskopf tabbed Stephanie White as the club's fifth head coach. White, an Indiana prep and collegiate icon before her own career in the WNBA and later broadcasting and coaching, was Krauskopf's very first trade acquisition in 1999, joining the Fever for the club's inaugural season.

Annually one of the league's most active GMs, Krauskopf's key trades and free agent signings have re-tooled the Fever roster over the years. Besides a February 2008 deal to land hometown star Katie Douglas, other moves have resulted in the acquisitions of past stars Erin Phillips, Tangela Smith, Natalie Williams, Yolanda Griffith, and Kelly Miller. A midseason move during the 2002 campaign brought veteran guard Coquese Washington to the Fever to ignite a late run to the franchise's first appearance in the WNBA Playoffs.

The cornerstone of the franchise was solidified by the draft selection of Catchings in the 2001 WNBA Draft. The third overall selection in the 2001 Draft and a three-time U.S. Olympian, Catchings was named Rookie of the Year in 2002 and Defensive Player of the Year in 2005, 2006, 2009, 2010 and 2012. The nine-time WNBA All-Star and 10-time All-WNBA selection finally earned a long-deserved MVP honor in 2011, finishing in the top five in MVP balloting 10 times. She won her first WNBA crown while earning Finals MVP honors in 2012.

Krauskopf recently served on USA Basketball's Women's Senior National Team Committee, helping select WNBA players to develop U.S. National Team rosters. Krauskopf joined the committee in 2000, helping select the gold-medal winning roster for the 2004 Summer Olympics in Athens, and again for Beijing in 2008 and London in 2012.

Krauskopf has been in the forefront of the development of the WNBA. In September 1996, she was named the WNBA's first Director of Basketball Operations. In that role, she was involved in all phases of the league's start-up operation and initiatives. She also developed the league's first set of playing rules, officiating policies, scheduling and other league standards, while working daily with WNBA team general managers and operations personnel.

Before joining the WNBA, Krauskopf was the Managing Director of League Development for Media Sports Partnership, Limited in Dallas, Tex. From 1990 to 1994, she was Assistant Commissioner for the Southwest Conference. In addition to overseeing league marketing, she was the chief administrator for all eight women's sports programs in the conference. She served from 1986 to 1990 as Texas A&M's Assistant Athletic Director for Women's Sports/Marketing.

Krauskopf has served on committees for the Women's Sports Foundation, the Women's Basketball Coaches Association, Citizenship for Sports Alliance, and Texas A&M's Lettermen's Association Board of Directors. She currently serves on the Indiana Sports Corporation Presidents Council.

Recently, she was part of the Local Organizing Committee that hosted the 2011 NCAA Women's Final Four at Bankers Life Fieldhouse where she proudly watched her alma mater win its first national championship in women's basketball. She will be a part of the LOC that brings the Women's Final Four back to The Fieldhouse in 2016.

A 1983 graduate of Texas A&M University with a bachelor of arts degree in journalism, she was a three-year letterwinner in basketball for the Lady Aggies after transferring from Stephen F. Austin University where she played her freshman year under legendary coach Sue Gunter.

As the WNBA's first Director of Basketball Operations, Krauskopf developed the league's first set of playing rules.

GAME ENTERTAINMENT

The friendliest Fever fan of them all.

During Fever games, it's easy to pick out Fever fans of all shapes and sizes, but no one has the shape and size of the Fever's team mascot, Freddy Fever.

One of the top mascots in the WNBA, Freddy can be seen throughout Bankers Life Fieldhouse before, during and after Fever games. The lovable and huggable character is a fan favorite among children and adults. Freddy does it all – from dancing, riding goofy scooters, aggravating officials, performing hysterical skits and much more. He keeps fans laughing from tipoff to the final buzzer.

Freddy certainly has the ability to tickle anyone's funny bone, but there's also a softer and lovable side to him. Freddy loves the Fever's fans and enjoys interacting with fans on a one-on-one basis and in groups. Freddy is often involved in numerous charitable efforts throughout the Indianapolis community. His schedule is hectic year round, but he wouldn't have it any other way.

In addition to being at every Fever game, Freddy is also available for birthday parties, corporate events and other similar type events. For more information about Freddy, or to book the biggest Fever fan for your next event, call (317) 917-2500.

INFERNO HIP-HOP DANCE SQUAD

Since the Indiana Fever hit the hardwood in the summer of 2000, the Fever Inferno has been right by the team's side. This exciting, energetic and enthusiastic group of young males and females has evolved into one of the WNBA's best hip-hop dance squads!

Coordinated and choreographed by former Pacemate Michelle Duggan, the Inferno is made up of a diverse group of young dancers that provide energetic entertainment during timeouts of Fever home games. Explosive tumbling and high-energy hip-hop dance routines are performed during every Fever home game. These youngsters are definitely fan favorites. Watch them once and you're hooked on their energy.

Along with performing at Fever home games, the Inferno makes appearances throughout the spring and summer months. The dance team joins the Fever players, coaches and front office staff in various community events.

EDUCATION

READ TO ACHIEVE

Read to Achieve serves as the NBA/WNBA's and its teams' primary community activity and harnesses all of professional basketball's best assets to impact one of the most pressing issues our society faces. The program promotes the value of reading and on-line literacy while encouraging families and adults to read regularly with young children.

The goals of this initiative are to build a lifelong love of reading in young people by providing greater access to books and technology; encourage and engage members of the NBA/WNBA family including current & former players, league and team personnel, coaches and parents to participate in the program as a Volunteer Reading Coach and to use all of the NBA/WNBA assets to create ongoing public awareness of this initiative through courtside signage, PSA's, NBA.com and WNBA.com TV presence and events around the league.

At the local level, the Indiana Fever Read to Achieve Program is composed of Monthly Reading Time-Outs during the WNBA season and a Read to Achieve Tip Off.

Reading Time-Outs

As a component of the Read to Achieve Program, the Indiana Fever presents reading timeouts throughout the WNBA season (May to August). Fever prizes including books, autographed items and game tickets! Each visit is approximately one hour in length.

Read To Achieve Tipoff

A component of the Read to Achieve Program, the Indiana Pacers and Indiana Fever host a Read to Achieve Tipoff prior to the each team's season.

The Fever tip off the season with a large Read to Achieve Tipoff event. Past events have included Reading Pep Rallies at a local school and events held at The Children's Museum of Indianapolis.

Each child in attendance receives a book, Fever items, a ticket to the Fever home opener and the opportunity to win Fever autographed memorabilia.

PROLIANCE ENERGY BACKPACK ATTACK

A component of the Read to Achieve Program, the Indiana Fever & Proliance Energy helps support the Backpack Attack. Since 1999, Backpack Attack has collected more than 2.1 million school supplies for children in the Indianapolis Public Schools (PS) as well as other schools in Marion, Boone, Hancock and Hendricks counties.

The Indiana Fever and Proliance Energy team up to host this event at a Fever game before school begins. Fans donate school supply items, and in return receive a FREE Pepsi product. In addition, employees of each organization host internal collections to help support the effort.

FEVER READING AND LEARNING CENTER

FEVER FRIENDS

In partnership with Big Brothers Big Sisters of Central Indiana, the Fever match young boys and girls with an adult mentor to attend Fever games throughout the season. Through this program, Fever players interact with kids and serve as role models. Fever Friends, which started during the inaugural Fever season, partnered exclusively with Big Sisters of Indiana prior to 2003. Since the Big Brothers and Big Sisters programs merged, the Fever began hosting boys and girls.

The WNBA has three primary community initiatives: WNBA Fit, Read to Achieve and Breast Health Awareness. In addition to these initiatives, the WNBA honors players who are active in their communities with the WNBA Community Assist Award presented four times a year.

COMMUNITY ASSIST AWARDS

Indiana is fortunate to have had a number of outstanding female role models on the Fever roster that make unbelievable efforts to give back to the fans and the community.

The Fever have consistently had players win the Community Assist Awards. Tamika Catchings has been an off-season recipient as well as an eight-time winner of in-season awards. Other past winners include Briann January, Katie Douglas, Niele Ivey, Nikki McCray, Kelly Schumacher and Natalie Williams. In all, Fever players have garnered WNBA Community Assist Awards on 16 occasions.

DONATIONS

As part of Pacers Sports & Entertainment's citizenship initiative, the Indiana Pacers and Indiana Fever provide donations to events & fundraisers for non-profit organizations. Donation requests for an Indiana Fever item can be made beneath the Community tab on FeverBasketball.com.

COMMUNITY TICKET BLOCKS

Kids love going to a professional sports event. For many of our kids, at risk or not, they might never get a chance to see the Pacers or Fever in action. A night out with a chaperone and a group of friends lets them see on-court athletic achievement which teaches the benefits of determination and perseverance.

Kids have fun and laugh and let the Fever into their lives for a night. It's a great opportunity to keep kids active and engaged in the community.

Our Community Ticket Block Program is open to all non-profit organizations. To request complimentary tickets through this program, you must provide your Tax ID #. Each season you must resubmit an on line application form. Ticket donation requests can be made at FeverBasketball.com.

Tamika Catchings was the first winner of the Dawn Staley Community Leadership Award.

HEALTH

GET FEVER FIT

As part of PS&E's Health Initiative and WNBA Fit program the Get Fever Fit program presented by Kroger holds monthly Get Fever Fit clinics throughout the WNBA season. These clinics are normally about one hour in length and vary in amount of children depending on gym size.

WNBA FIT

The WNBA will embrace its responsibility as the preeminent women's professional sports league with powerful role models to continue to deliver important messages and program related to the areas of health, fitness, nutrition and self esteem. WNBA Fit encourages teens and women of all ages to learn more about the benefits and the importance of physical fitness.

BREAST HEALTH AWARENESS

During this special game, the Fever concentrates on bringing awareness to breast cancer. In conjunction with this promotion, the Fever conducts a health fair in Bankers Life Fieldhouse where several organizations distribute educational materials about breast cancer. Pink ribbons and other giveaways are distributed, and breast cancer survivors are recognized during the pregame ball exchange.

The WNBA Breast Health Awareness program focuses on generating awareness and educating women about breast cancer in addition to raising funds for the initiative. More than $2 million was raised by the WNBA, its players and teams to help fight breast cancer through Breast Health Awareness programs.

The 2015 Fever Breast Health Awareness Game presented by Community Health Network will be held on Friday, August 7 vs. Atlanta at 7:00 p.m. Pink jerseys will be worn by the Fever players and auctioned off after the game in a live auction to raise money for the Community Breast Health Fund.

HEART HEALTHY NIGHT

As part of PS&E's Health Initiative, the Indiana Fever hosts Heart Healthy Night presented by Community Health Network at a select Fever game.

PACERS FOUNDATION, INC.

Behind every statistic is a story about a kid, at-risk of going under, who needs help.

From abuse to obesity to drugs, Indiana's kids face tremendous obstacles. That is why the Pacers Foundation gets involved early and often. We fund programs that teach kids how to make winning life choices.

Since its inception in 1993, Pacers Foundation has contributed more than $6.5 million in contributions, community partnerships, scholarships and tickets to Pacers and Fever games.

We are committed to making a positive difference in the lives of at-risk youth in Indianapolis and throughout Indiana. In doing so, we can help make our Hoosier communities better places to live, work and play.

COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS

We give communities the power to change by partnering with community-based organizations and corporations. For example, two years ago, Pacers Foundation partnered with the Indianapolis Parks Foundation and Indianapolis Power & Light (IPL) in a $1.1 million effort over five years to refurbish outdoor basketball courts at City Parks throughout Marion County. As the courts are refurbished, they are co-branded with Fever, Pacers and IPL logos. More recently, the Pacers Foundation provided a grant to the Indianapolis Police Foundation to aid public safety personnel in fostering positive relationships with youth in some of Indianapolis' most high-risk neighborhoods.

BE A PART OF THE SOLUTION

We are not a traditional corporate foundation, supported solely by our corporate parent. We strongly believe that helping Indiana's youth make winning life choices requires all of us in the community to do our part. Therefore, we invite you to join us in this effort by making a financial contribution to Pacers Foundation and/or volunteering your time to help the non-profits we fund. In our view, the community's greatest challenges necessitate the community's best solutions. Join us and be part of the solution.

INDIANA FEVER BOWLING TOURNAMENT/BE YOUNIQUE FUND

Members of the Fever team and coaching staff serve up strikes at an annual bowling tournament which benefits the Be YOUNIQUE Fund. Fever sponsors, season ticket holders and fans are treated to a night of bowling fun, pizza, a silent auction and autographs from the Fever team and other celebrities.

The 2014 event raised $15,000. The 2015 tournament will take place at Pinheads in Fishers on July 30.

The vision of the Indiana Fever's Be YOUNIQUE Fund is to be recognized as a leading funding resource for programs that encourage the development of valuable life skills among young women throughout the state of Indiana. These programs build self-esteem, promote a positive body image and educate about dating violence while providing services to those who have experienced such violence.

Specific to the Be YOUNIQUE Fund, organizations benefiting since 2001, among others, are the Children's Bureau, Girls Inc. of Indianapolis, Girl Scouts, The Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation, The Julian Center, and the Social Health Association.

COACHING STAFF

STEPHANIE WHITE
TWITTER

An iconic figure in the state's history of women's basketball known for her skill, grit, poise and knowledge of the game, Stephanie White was introduced as the fifth head coach of the Indiana Fever on Sept. 23, 2014.

Taking the coaching reigns from her longtime mentor Lin Dunn, she succeeds Dunn, Brian Winters, Neil Fortner and Anne Donovan as the club's head coach.

A local star who joined the Fever as a player during a 1999 trade prior to the team's first season, White completed four seasons with the Fever (2000-01, 2003-04) before embarking on her coaching and broadcasting career. She returned as an Indiana assistant coach in 2011 and was elevated to the role of associate head coach prior to the 2014 season.

One of the club's original players and a member of the Fever's All-Decade Team announced in 2009, the Fever's 2012 WNBA title had special meaning for White who enjoyed prep, college and pro success in the state of Indiana.

She has coached in the college and pro ranks since 2003. She retired from playing in the WNBA following the 2004 season and her hiring in 2011 marked the first time the Fever had hired an assistant coach with pro playing experience. She was reunited with Dunn, the former Purdue coach who recruited White to its West Lafayette campus.

Prior to re-joining the Fever, White spent four seasons as an assistant coach with the Chicago Sky after previous stints as a college assistant at Ball State (2003-04), Kansas State (2004-05) and Toledo (2005-07).

White also has parlayed her playing and coaching into a prominent broadcasting career with the Big Ten Network, ESPN and FOX Sports Indiana. She appears regularly on BTN's women's basketball studio show and provides game analysis for women's college games on BTN and ESPN. During the 2013-14 NBA season, she began work as a pre- and postgame anchor with FOX Sports Indiana, covering the Indiana Pacers.

After leading Purdue to a national championship in 1999 and being drafted by the Charlotte Sting (2nd round, No. 21 overall), White was eventually acquired by the Fever in December 1999 to lead her hometown team into its first season of existence. White played four seasons with the Fever where she was a teammate of current Fever star Tamika Catchings.

A 5-10 shooting guard, she played five pro seasons between 1999-04, capping her career with the Fever for whom she was one of the club's top playmakers, 3-point artists and free throw shooters. She still ranks prominently among franchise leaders in games played, minutes, 3-pointers, assists, steals, 3-point percentage and free throw percentage. Her 93 percent free throw shooting in 2003 remains a Fever record.

White's legacy as a prep and college star made her one of the state's most popular figures even before she donned a Fever uniform. Beginning at tiny Seeger Memorial High School, in West Central Indiana near the Illinois border, White set early standards for basketball excellence while becoming an Indiana icon. She averaged 36.9 points and 13.1 rebounds per game while being named Indiana Miss Basketball and the 1995 national high school player of the year by Gatorade and USA Today.

Record crowds began following the small school sensation as she led the Patriots to a 92-7 record over four seasons and finished her prep career with an Indiana record 2,869 points, still the second-best figure in state history.

In Indiana's years of single-class basketball, White and Seeger won sectional and regional titles in all four seasons that she played.

At Purdue, she averaged double-figure scoring in four straight seasons. As a senior she averaged 20.2 points and 4.5 assists per game while earning the 1999 Wade Trophy as the national college player of the year. The Big Ten Player of the Year, she led Purdue to an unbeaten league mark (16-0) and its first NCAA title. She finished her career second in school history in points and assists.

She was inducted into the Purdue Athletics Hall of Fame on April 21, 2006.

Internationally, White competed with USA Basketball as a member of the 1997 Jones Cup Team that won a silver medal in Taipei, Taiwan. The USA lost the gold medal game against South Korea, 76-71, with White finishing the tournament as the second-leading scorer for the U.S., averaging 10.3 points per game.

Born in Danville, Ill., and raised in West Lebanon, Ind., White gave birth to her first child, Landon Fletcher White, on Sept. 27, 2011 — the morning of Game 3 of the 2011 Eastern Conference Finals. White and partner Michelle welcomed twin boys, Aiden and Avery, on Aug. 3, 2013.

One of the most accomplished women's basketball coaches in the nation, Gail Goesteniors is scheduled for induction in the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame on June 13, 2015, where she will join former Fever boss Lin Dunn who, ironically, hired Goesteniors to her first full time coaching position at Purdue in 1986.

Also ironic is that Goesteniors first crossed paths with current Fever coach Stephanie White when White was a young recruit at Purdue. Goesteniors later coached White on the 1997 Jones Cup Team, and in 1999, White dashed Goesteniors' hopes of a national championship at Duke when Purdue downed the Blue Devils in the national championship game.

It was at Duke that Goesteniors put the stamp on her hall of fame career.

The head coach at Duke from 1992-07, she led the Blue Devils to an NCAA-record seven consecutive 30-win seasons while making 13 straight NCAA Tournament appearances. She was named the ACC Coach of the Year a record seven times and, during her final ten seasons at Duke, she led the Blue Devils to NCAA Sweet Sixteen appearances every year, seven Elite Eight appearances, four Final Four appearances, and two appearances in the NCAA Championship game.

In 2001-02, she led the Blue Devils to the first undefeated regular season in ACC women's basketball history, then repeated the feat twice more, in 2003 and 2007, while earning national coach of the honors each time. During her tenure at Duke, her teams won five ACC tournament championships and eight ACC regular season titles. Goesteniors holds the ACC record for fewest games required to achieve 300 wins (387 games).

A six-year assistant coach at Purdue under Dunn (1986-92), Goesteniors left Duke to take the reins as the Texas head coach from 2007-12. She briefly stepped away from coaching before venturing to the WNBA for the first time in 2014, as an assistant to Carol Ross in Los Angeles.

In 15 seasons at Duke, Goesteniors was 396-99 (.797). She was 102-64 (.614) in five seasons at Texas, falling just two wins shy of 500 head coaching victories at the college level — 498-163 (.753).

She also has played a significant role with USA Basketball, guiding the United States to medal finishes in each of six international competitions from 1997 to 2008. Since leading a silver-medal finish as head coach of the 1997 Jones Cup team, she was an assistant coach during a pair of gold medal finishes at the 2004 and 2008 Olympics, in Athens and Beijing. She was head coach of the USA at the U-19 World Championships in Tunisia in 2005, and an assistant coach during FIBA World Championships in 2002 and 2006.

Born Feb. 26, 1963 in Waterford, Michigan, Goesteniors attended Saginaw Valley State University, where she played point guard. After graduating in 1985, Goesteniors became a graduate assistant coach at Iowa State. After one season, she left to become an assistant coach under Dunn, where she remained until becoming head coach at Duke in 1992.

GARY KLOPPENBURG
ASSISTANT COACH@CoachKlop
TWITTER

Gary Kloppenburg begins his second stint with the Fever, returning to Indiana where he helped design a trademark defensive unit that has had the Fever among the WNBA's top three scoring defenses every season since 2005.

Kloppenburg coached under Lin Dunn in Seattle (2000-02), spent 2003 with Phoenix, and resumed ties with Dunn in Indiana before embarking on his first head coaching role with Tulsa in 2012 and 2013.

Last season, as an assistant with the Los Angeles Sparks, was Kloppenburg's 11th in the WNBA.

Coaching beside Gail Goesteniors at L.A., and now again in Indiana, Kloppenburg helps form a dynamic bench duo of former head coaches to aid first-year head coach Stephanie White. White and Kloppenburg, in fact, shared the Fever bench in 2011, as assistants to Dunn.

Kloppenburg used his years of WNBA experience to net the Sparks' head position, and helped a three-win Tulsa franchise improve to nine wins in 2012 and 11 in 2013.

Prior to joining Dunn's staff with the Fever in 2008, he was on the staff of the NBA's Charlotte Bobcats, where he served under Bernie Bickerstaff for three seasons. Kloppenburg was hired by Bickerstaff when the Bobcats were founded in 2004 — continuing a family bond established when Bickerstaff was in college, and strengthened when Gary's father Bob coached in the NBA with Bickerstaff in Seattle and Denver.

Kloppenburg has coached at virtually every level of college and professional basketball, ranging from his beginnings at a California community college and intertwined with jobs in the NBA, WNBA, Continental Basketball Association and internationally.

Prior to joining the Bobcats' staff as an assistant coach and advance scout, he was an assistant with the WNBA's Mercury for one season after three years with Dunn in Seattle. He worked for the NBA's Toronto Raptors from 1997-99 after two seasons as an assistant coach and assistant director of player personnel in the CBA — first with the Rockford Lightning and then for the Quad City Thunder. Kloppenburg was the interim head coach for four games in 1999-00 with Rockford where he coached former NBA star Earl Boykins.

In the summer of 1999, he was head coach for Panteras de Miranda of the Venezuelan Professional League, and he has conducted basketball clinics in Greece, Belgium, Iceland and Japan.

After graduating from UC San Diego in 1981, his coaching career began at Lassen Community College (Calif.) where he had successful stints as head coach with both the men's and women's teams. He guided the women's team for five seasons before taking over the men's program for six.

Also fluent in Spanish, Kloppenburg was born Jan. 6, 1953, and has three children — Sonja, Ian and Carlotta. Carlotta, a coaching intern with the Fever, played at Point Loma Nazarene College and also is a graduate assistant coach at Winthrop University.

Indiana's "do-everything" forward has completed 14 seasons in the WNBA... she earned WNBA Finals MVP honors while leading the Fever to the 2012 WNBA championship... a year earlier, in 2011, she captured her first regular-season MVP honor... she enters the 2015 season as the WNBA's active leader in points, rebounds, steals and free throws.

Catchings is set to become the WNBA's only player ever to spend an entire career of 15 or more seasons with the same franchise. An active participant in 14 seasons (not counting 2001) with the Fever, Catchings joins an elite list of NBA counterparts with as many seasons of an entire career playing with the same team: Kobe Bryant (19), John Stockton (19), Tim Duncan (18), Reggie Miller (18), Dirk Nowitzki (17), John Havlicek (16), Hal Greer (15), Elgin Baylor (14), Joe Dumars (14), Tony Parker (14), David Robinson (14), and Jerry West (14).

In Fall 2014, Catchings announced her intentions to retire following the 2016 WNBA season which coincides with the Summer Olympics in August 2016, in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. Catchings hopes to join an elite club with Teresa Edwards and Lisa Leslie who are currently the only American basketball players, male or female, to earn four Olympic gold medals.

She enters the 2015 season as the WNBA's all-time leader in free throws and steals, while ranking third in points and fourth in rebounds. She is the WNBA career playoffs leader in points, rebounds, free throws and steals.

A telling note of durability is that Catchings has played at least 30 games in 10 of her 13 active seasons... in 2014, however, she missed the Fever's first 17 games due to a sore back. In 2012, at age 33, Catchings was the only WNBA player to start every regular season (34) and playoff game (10), as well as every game in the Olympics (8).

She was fourth in 2014 (9.2rpg) while making a bid for a first All-Star appearance that ended her former North Carolina star and first-round pick by New York was waived by the Liberty in 2010 and again by the Phoenix Mercury in 2011.

She was the only Fever player to start every game...she registered a second straight double-double at Chicago, 9/6, recording 13 points, 12 rebounds, a career-high six assists and finished 7-of-7 at the free throw line. Larkins matched a Fever regular-season record with 17 rebounds at Atlanta, 9/4, and scored 10 points en route to her third straight double-double...against Los Angeles, 8/8, she finished with 11 points, 13 rebounds and a career-high six steals. Beginning her sixth year in Indiana, Zellous elevated her game during the 2012 playoffs, and again in 2013 when she was named the WNBA's Most Improved Player. Zellous has reached the WNBA playoffs in each of six seasons as a pro, and has started at least 29 games for Indiana in each of the past three seasons. In 2013, she was the league's most improved scorer, raising her scoring average from 2012 by 7.2 points per game, to 14.7. She posted a then-career scoring high of 29 points against Phoenix, 6/8/13, then bettered that figure with a 33-point game against Tulsa, 6/25/14...en route to the Fever's 2012 WNBA title. Zellous averaged 10.6 points in the playoffs, including a playoff career-high 30 points in Game 3 of the Finals and a last-second, buzzer-beating jumper in Game 2 of the conference semis. She had another game-winning bucket in 2012 with a last-second shot at Seattle...she was acquired in a May 27, 2010 trade with the Tulsa Shock. Whitmore made 15-of-22 shots and added 10 rebounds in what was one of the greatest playoff performances in league history. Pacing the Fever while Tamika Catchings was lost for the second half due to a concussion, Whitmore scored 25 points in the second half, including 15 in the third quarter.

Shavonte Zellous' 30 points in Game 3 of the 2012 WNBA Finals matched the third-highest scoring output in Indiana playoff history. Zellous hit 10-of-17 shots in the game while staking the Fever to a stunning 37-point third-quarter advantage (70-33), which is the largest lead in Finals history. Zellous shot 18-of-18 from the FT line during the series and closed the 2012 campaign with 19 straight free throws made.

Erlana Larkins established a new Fever record with 109 rebounds during the 2012 playoffs season. She matched a league standard with nine offensive rebounds and grabbed 20 boards overall in Game 3 of the East Semis to match Tamika Catchings' mark which is second in league playoffs history. She twice registered 15 rebounds in the Finals which fell one shy of the single-game mark in a championship series.

WNBA PLAYOFFS FORMAT

WNBA PLAYOFFS FORMAT

The top four teams from each conference will qualify for the 2015 WNBA Playoffs presented by Boost Mobile. The first and fourth-place teams, and the second and third-place teams, will each play a best-of-three conference semifinal series. The winners of the semifinal series in each conference will then play in a best-of-three conference final.

Tiebreaker Procedure

The following tiebreak procedure shall be used to break ties for playoff eligibility, home court advantage and draft order. In determining draft order, non-playoff teams will always select before playoff teams.

Two-Way Tie Between Teams In The Same Conference

1. Better record in head-to-head games
2. Better winning percentage in own conference
3. Better winning percentage against all teams with .500 or better record at the end of the season
4. Better point differential in games head-to-head
5. Coin toss

Two-Way Tie Between Teams In The Different Conference

In order to break a tie, the following criteria will be utilized in the order set forth:
